With Halloween and bonfire night nearly behind us, we are well and truly in the 'silly season' as I like to call it; time for the pantomime, school nativity, gift fairs, Christmas light extravaganzas, etc. etc. It is both an exciting and exhausting season. We have gathered a number of options for your calendar. Enjoy and stay safe!

Glusburn Community and Arts Centre is a focal point for many events. The Kildwick and Farnhill Scouts celebrate their 75th Gang Show at the Institute. Be sure to look at their website for more details (page 2) as well as our community pages (pages 24 & 25).

A little further a field Bolton Abbey has a fantastic line up including a Panto Trail, Father Christmas, Festive workshops, and a Nativity Play. (page 13).

Haworth is hosting a Steampunk event later this month followed by festive parades and Victorian themed weekends right through to Christmas Eve. Don't miss the Christmas Market as well... see page 19.

If you haven't been for a meal at The Three Acres in Cross Roads now is a good opportunity to sample their excellent homestyle menu. Meet the Hudson family as featured in this edition. They are offering a £5 voucher at The Three Acres for dining with them mid week. (page 4).

For those with businesses, Airedale Enterprise, the local enterprise training agency, is sponsoring a number of events and workshops to help you improve your business and broaden your horizons.

Have a great November!

THE 3 Acres

What comes to mind when someone mentions The Three Acres in Crossroads? "Oh, you mean The Quarry House?" It's funny how certain things stick in peoples memory. "They do the carvery, right?" Change can be challenging but the Hudson Family have made great strides in reshaping The Three Acres, (formerly The Quarry House), a business they own and passionately manage themselves. The carvery is long gone but there is always a roast dinner on the menu and the homemade Yorkshire puddings are to die for!

on the chalk board. "Our menu can also be tailored to suit various dietary requirements, for example, diners who want gluten free options." Emma Hudson has developed the events, catering and wedding services for the business. The facilities at the Three Acres include the Old Barn which is a rustic but elegant function suite that can cater for up to 200 people. "We are really delighted with the feedback we are receiving. It's so encouraging to know we are getting things right for our customers.," confirmed Emma.

Mark and Jayne continue to re-invest in The Three Acres. Jayne even decided to go back to college to obtain an NVQ in Hospitality. "We are all working together to create the very best experience for our visitors and we value the community in which we live and work," explained Mark. "We extend a warm welcome to customers old and new and look forward to serving even more local people in the coming months."

This Christmas at Bolton Abbey

Meet Father Christmas in Strid Wood

After a 4,000 mile trip from the North Pole, Father Christmas will be staying in Strid Wood in a Romany caravan on various dates throughout December from 10am to 4pm.

Meet Father Christmas and his merry elves. Each child will receive a personalised, age-appropriate gift and the opportunity to have their photograph taken with Father Christmas at the end of their visit.

With open log fires, a wishing tree and Christmas carols to sing along to, it really is a truly magical experience. What's more, Father Christmas brings with him his very own reindeer dust that children can take home for Christmas Eve.

Bookings for this popular event are being taken online at www.boltonabbey.com. The last few years have sold out and bookings are already selling faster than before, so we urge you to book now to avoid disappointment.

Live Nativity

Another new event this Christmas is the live Nativity at the Priory Church on 20th December.

There are performances at 12 noon and 2pm, no need to book just arrive at the village car park at least 15 minutes prior to the performance (normal estate admission applies). A main cast will lead this interactive tale of the Christmas story. Children are welcome to attend as Shepherds, Kings or Angels and join in with the magic. Real animals will help bring the story to life. The event is outside so please wrap up warm. Refreshments will be available by the Priory Church.

New for 2016 The Panto Trail

From 17th December until 2nd January bring friends and family young and old to Bolton Abbey for a winter woodland walk with a difference.

The pantomime trail is suitable for all ages. Following the trail to the Strid you will encounter many scenes from your favourite pantomimes; Cinderella, Snow White, Pinocchio and Dick Whittington to name but a few!

A number of the scenes are interactive or beautifully lit with fairy lights. This free family event is one not to be missed and is accessible to all, with access for pushchairs and wheelchairs. The estate's admission fee of £8 per vehicle applies.

Further details about all these events and more can be found at www.boltonabbey.com

Special Keighley & Worth Valley Memories

As a youngster (which was a fair few years ago!) I visited the Railway and marvelled at the sight, sound and such distinctive smell of the steam locomotives and travelled in the heritage carriages. I loved seeing Oakworth, because The Railway Children was always my favourite film.

I enjoyed the welcome from the uniformed booking staff, hearing the guard's whistle and, with a wave of a flag, we were tackling Keighley bank, where all steam engines, however powerful, struggle for grip as they haul the train up the hill. It was all amazing, inspiring and most definitely got me hooked...

From those visits, I simply had no idea how much effort went into keeping the wheels turning. From the earliest days of the preservation society, our volunteers have struggled to keep the Railway running. Starting with a branch line that British Railways closed to the reopening of the Railway in 1968 took years of negotiation, planning and hard graft, which continues to this day. For the recent Steam Spectacular weekend, for example, we had two visiting locomotives that took months to arrange and well over 100 volunteers operating the Railway over the three days.

We followed the Steam Spectacular with the ever-popular Beer & Music weekend when we had even more volunteers rostered both to operate the Railway and also to serve a whole variety of real ales, cider and choice of wines at bars at Oxenhope and Keighley as well on board the two trains in service. The planning involved in getting the bars, music venues, volunteers and the all-important range of beer is immense and involves months and months of effort, along with the work to set everything up and put the Railway back together ready for normal service to resume the following weekend.

Asking our volunteers to run such two high-profile and busy events in one month is a big ask, but we can't relax because we now have to turn our attention to preparing the Railway for the visit of Santa and his Pixies from the end of November. Santa's visit is always popular, and this year even more so than previous with many dates already all but full, so please do book soon to avoid disappoint.

As I started with, it's all about the planning, and having the people willing and able to put so many hours in, often at very unsociable times, to make the Railway run. Without all the behind the scenes work, there wouldn't be a great welcome for Santa's passengers, the beer pumps would run dry and there would be no restored wheels to turn, so no locomotives or carriages to take our passengers on the journey back in time. Please do consider whether you have even just a few hours a month to join our volunteering team. Further details of how to volunteer, as well as details of our services every weekend and through the holidays, are on the website. We look forward to welcoming you on board soon.

Sue Ryder Manorlands Hospice is searching for members for local Fundraising Groups.

The Oxenhope based hospice currently has 9 Fundraising groups which organise their own small fundraising events throughout the year. Between them they raise around £100,000 each year. As a hospice we are hoping to grow the amount of groups in the local area to increase the amount raised for the hospice.

Manorlands are currently looking for individuals for new groups in the Worth & Aire Valley areas. Groups can meet as little or as often as they like and can choose how to raise the vital income for the hospice. Whether its events, collections or coffee mornings, you'll play an important role in helping support the hospice.

Newly formed groups in Riddlesden & East Morton, Crosshills & Glusburn, Silsden & Steeton are emerging. If you'd like to fundraise for the hospice with like-minded individuals in a social setting then please get in touch.

Email Manorlands fundraising@sueryder.org or call 01535 640430 to speak to a member of the fundraising team.
