The first signs of spring have arrived despite a storm called Doris. But I've lived in Yorkshire long enough to know that Ewan, the wicked step brother to Doris, is somewhere off in the distance gathering clouds.

Getting outside for some length of time is one of the joys of spring. Local residents, Richard and Joe McEvoy, know something about that; in fact, they specialise in making the most of an outdoor experience with their Bushcraft courses (see page 21 for details)

If it is encouragement you need to shed

the few extra pounds that have crept up on you over winter; be encouraged, help is at hand, and thankfully Slimming World has at least seven local meetings to choose from.

This month we are pleased to include Laycock in our monthly distribution of the Aire Valley magazine. We welcome feedback and look forward to covering community news from the village. If you have a business and would like to reach up to 20,000 households in the Aire & Worth Valleys, please do get in touch.

Our office email address is mail@worthvalleymag.co.uk and our phone number is 01535 642227.

You will find lots more services in the following pages as well as things to do in the community pages.

Have a great March.

Go on, you can do it too!

Our local Slimming World groups meet every week and help people make changes to their shopping, cooking, eating and activity habits.

A healthy eating plan called Food

Optimising, is easy to follow, generous and flexible; it makes slimming much easier than many other weight loss programs.

Slimming World is based on sound nutrition principles using normal everyday healthy foods – no fads or gimmicks, incorporating Free Foods like fruit and veg, pasta rice potatoes with meat fish and more.

There are so many meals you can enjoy without weighing, measuring or counting a single bean! Tuck in to spag bol, steak, egg and chip suppers and even mushy peas, roast dinners, curries, & cooked breakfasts.

Debbie Henson, one of the local Slimming World members, is a mum of 4, works part-time and also runs her own business Starbakery. Debbie joined early 2016 and has lost a total of 4 stone 10½lbs and dropped 5 dress sizes! Debbie says Slimming World has given her a new lease of life and raised her confidence levels.

We know it takes courage to walk through the doors and join a group, and it can be overwhelming when you're starting a brand new eating plan – and a brand new way of life.

Through group support, which Slimming World calls IMAGE Therapy, (Individual Motivation and Group Experience) – members are given the tools they need to succeed.

One hour, each week is what you get to soak up all the love, foodie ideas, insight, sharing and humour that will help you feel a million dollars Debbie says – even on those weeks when the scales go in the wrong direction (and we all have them) you'll keep motivated and most importantly, guided back on track – all the way to your personal target.

Slimming World also helps members to gradually increase their physical activity levels in ways which suit their lifestyle and at their own pace. Body Magic gets members moving and enjoying an active life. . Debbie now enjoys walking & running about with her children and hubby.

You will find more details about the local Slimming World meetings on page 3 in this magazine.

Let them know you read about it in the Aire Valley Mag. Best of luck, You can do it too!

WORTH VALLEY

It's easy to overlook what's on your doorstep, which is especially surprising when we have visitors travelling from far and wide to visit the gem at the bottom of the hill... Next year we will have been operating the Railway for 50 years, but we know that there are still some of our near-neighbours who haven't visited at all or not for many, many years.

That's all the more surprising when recently I've been talking to a family from Australia who will be visiting us as part of a trip of a lifetime for one of their children who is a Railway Children and Flying Scotsman fanatic, and another family visiting from mainland Europe for similar reasons. Having shown many visitors round over the years, it makes all our volunteers' efforts so worthwhile when they marvel at the magical charm of Oakworth station; the gas lighting at Haworth, Oakworth and Oxenhope; the lamps at Ingrow; the quality of the two museums at Rail Story, Ingrow; the amount of work it takes to maintain the operational fleet; and the mainline connection at Keighley and the quality and ambience of our side of Keighley compared with the much more modern Northern facilities on platforms 1 and 2. They are also impressed by Keighley's canopy, waiting room, the subway between the platforms and the turntable.

We have a local residents' discount scheme, meaning that once they've applied for their card, residents of BD20/21/22 can enjoy a discount for travel on regular services. Please visit the website or any of the stations when we're running for more details. We do hope that you will make the most of what's on your doorstep!

Whilst we run trains every weekend and daily in the holidays, we run special events as well (for some of which residents' discounts are different, so please do check for details).

To make all this happen takes such a wide range of skills that we always have openings for new volunteers. If you would like to help run a station, work towards qualifying to operate a level crossing or work on the operation of the train, then please do get in touch via the contact details on the website. Matt Stroh

Rated 4.7 out of 5

Does your conservatory give you the chills?

A solid roof has many advantages in terms of energy efficiency. Designed and installed with thermo-efficient insulation, a solid roof has the added benefit of helping to control your winter energy costs.

Avoiding the pitfalls

One challenge with replacement tiled roofs is finding the right contractor to undertake your project and avoiding the pitfalls of choosing price rather than experience. We spoke to replacement conservatory roof expert Chris Hopkins of Ploughcroft who said "One of the easiest ways of finding a reliable company is by consulting Which? Trusted Traders. Companies approved by Which? have a commitment to straight forward communication, high quality workmanship and an unrivalled reputation."

Conservatories can make a fantastic addition to your home, giving you that extra room for your family to enjoy. Unfortunately, many conservatories tend to suffer from the same problems. Often, the roof can become unsightly and difficult to clean, can spring roof leaks and is noisy in the wind and rain. Sadly, most people cannot use their conservatory as and when they wish – it's freezing cold in winter and too hot in summer.

As we now move further into winter and the temperature drops so will the amount of time that you spend relaxing in your conservatory.

If you would like to relax all year round in your conservatory then maybe you could think about changing your existing plastic or glass roof with a permanent, solid replacement roof to match the aesthetics of your existing home.

New luxury living

A replacement tiled roof effectively converts your conservatory into a true home extension, which you can enjoy every day – regardless of the weather. The look and feel of your new luxury living space is completed with Velux roof windows and modern lighting to suit your lifestyle.

With over twenty years experience in general and heritage roof repairs and replacements, Ploughcroft have grown to today become a respected authority in replacement tiled conservatory roofs with a number of installations and satisfied customers throughout the region.

Want to know more?

Chris says "All it takes to get started is a quick call to 01422 202 919 and a member of my team will arrange a home visit to discuss your requirements, answer any questions and provide a quote".

We'd like to thank Chris Hopkins of Ploughcroft for his advice. Should you want to find out more information, see case studies or browse their other services visit www.ploughcroft.co.uk

Going wild.

It's not something we are encouraged to do these days! We live in our controlled suburban worlds with risk averse tendencies and cosseted experiences.

When was the last time you allowed your kids to climb a tree or build a shelter in the woods? How about start a campfire? Or forage for food and cook outdoors?

Spending an afternoon in the woods, learning the basic skills associated with bushcraft and survival is a real opportunity not to be missed. Father & son from Oakworth, Richard & Joe McEvoy, have created a business that enables people to do just that...experience nature, feel the satisfaction of gaining bushcraft skills, & the utter joy of spending time in the woods.

Brigantia Bushcraft is the name of the business inspired by the Celtic tribe that occupied the North of Britain in ancient times. It is their tradition of self sufficiency and a deep respect for the natural world that provides a framework for the courses Richard and Joe have devised.

Youth groups, schools, families, dads-n-lads, mothers & daughters, grandparents, small teams, anyone really, who wants to enjoy the fresh air and experience nature in an exciting and challenging way, will find that Brigantia Bushcraft courses hit the mark.

It might initially be a shock to leave certain 'devices' behind; no smart phones, ipads, or ipods are required for a Brigantia Bushcraft experience. But the rewards are many, not least, a boost in self confidence and the surprise at how empowering it is to thrive without certain modern conveniences.

Richard is a life long mountaineer and walker. He loves being in wild places and testing himself with whatever nature has in store. "it's about learning to thrive not just survive" is his view.

Richard has a background in working with disadvantaged and troubled children and knows the benefits of being in the outdoors and the positive effect it has on the well-being of those who struggle with routines and boundaries.

Joe is a keen hill walker with four years experience of bushcraft and survival skills. His passion is for ancient cultures and practices, from Mesolithic through to the Viking period. Joe has spent time with Native American people of the Blackfeet tribe in Montana. His specialist skills are firelighting and foraging.

Both Richard and Joe are DBS checked and have remote locations First Aid certificates.

The courses are run locally and can be tailored to suit folk from aged 6-86. You will find a booking form on www.brigantiabushcraft.com Or you can phone 07950 575752 We hope you will answer the call of the wild!

Big blue & green smoothie

We've been sharing mainly juicing recipes in the past few months but we thought we'd throw in a super smoothie recipe. This one is ever so easy to make and has eight ingredients, all of which you can find at the local health food store.

All you need is a blender and 5 minutes spare.

I keep a few bananas in my freezer. It is best to peel them and place them in a plastic bag, then they are ready to go when you need them. Berries freeze well too.

The base for this smoothie is frozen ripe banana and organic, frozen blueberries. Almond butter is included for some plant-based protein, and almond milk binds everything together. Flax and chia seeds add fiber and omega-3 & 6 fatty acids and give the drink body. Spinach is a top source of magnesium, iron, vitamins B2 & B6.

The result is healthy & soooo delicious. It's a mix between a blueberry milkshake and a banana smoothie...and it is a perfect breakfast option or afternoon perk up. You're kids are going to love it too.

Ingredients

Frozen bananas 1 1/2 cups (1 1/2 bananas or 200 g)
 Frozen blueberries 1/2 cup (74 g) (organic if possible)
 Baby spinach ...1 handful (organic if possible)
 Almond butter 1 Tbsp (16 g) (or peanut butter)
 Unsweetened plain almond milk 3/4 cup (180 ml)
 Flaxseed meal 1 Tbsp (7 g)
 Chia seed 1 Tbsp (12 g)
 Protein powder 1-2 Tbsp (5-10 g)

Method

Add frozen banana, blueberries, almond butter, spinach, flaxseed meal, chia seeds, and almond milk to a blender and blend on high until liquid & smooth. The Protein powder is optional. If it seems a bit too thick add more almond milk.

This recipe is Vegan & Gluten Free.

March 24th, Haworth Wholefoods celebrates its 1 year anniversary! Come along to the shop on Haworth Main Street for tasting sessions & juicing demonstrations from 11am as well as other surprises on the day. All welcome.

COUNTRY COOKING

For Health & Wellbeing by Cath Bromwich

Potato Cakes

I like to eat potato cakes with a good fry-up as an alternative to toast. With a little practice they come up golden and crunchy on the outside and soft and creamy on the inside. Ideally boil your potatoes the Irish way, skins on, to keep them dry. Alternatively use up cold mash, but you may need more flour. I use a mixture of cornflour and rice flour which make them an easy and cost-effective option without containing gluten, egg or dairy. However wheat flour works too. I mainly use Maris Piper potatoes for this recipe.

Ingredients:

- 3 medium Potatoes
- Olive oil
- Salt and Pepper
- Optional: herbs dry or fresh chopped
- 2 rounded teaspoons of corn flour
- 2 rounded teaspoons rice flour
- More seasoned corn flour and rice flour, equal amounts, mixed for dusting

Cath Bromwich is a cookery teacher & forager. Her livelihood includes sessions such as Cooking for Special Diets, On a budget and Foraging. She trained at Ballymaloe Cookery School, Ireland. For more information, contact Cath at www.facebook.com/foragercathyorkshire

Method:

Simmer the potatoes, ideally in their skins until cooked. Peel while hot! Mash (or use old mash). Knead the mash a little as you add the flours, you want to add enough to get a fairly dry dough, but so it still comes together into a 'cake' when you squeeze it in your hand. Add more flour if needed. Add plenty of seasoning. Dust your hands in flour. Make little 'cakes'. They should be no thicker than 3/4 cm so the flour cooks. Dust the cakes in flour. Place on a plate with flour. This mixture amount makes 15-20 little patties about 5 cm across, but its thickness that matters! Heat a thick based frying pan with up to 1/2 cm oil in the bottom. Too little and they can burn more easily. I get this oil as hot as I dare, until 'smoking point', but be careful. Place the cakes into the oil and do not move for a couple of minutes, you can turn the heat down a little. When you think they are golden on the bottom turn them over and cook on the other side. Add more oil if needed. Place on a warmed plate and serve.
