Ofsted GRADER GOOD

Forging Ahead

With over 100 years of combined experience rolled into the team, Aire Valley Forge has built its reputation on time honed skills and masterful know-how. Founder, Paul Munton, set up the business fueled from his own passion for traditional blacksmithing & forge work.

With a 5 star rating on the Guild of Master Craftsmen, it is safe to say that customers are delighted to endorse the work and praise the skills and craft of Aire Valley Forge.

Bringing the latest technology of autocad design together with craftsmanship sets Aire Valley Forge apart from its competitors in the area.

Referral rates are high as AVF has established a good reputation both locally and further afield into North Yorkshire.

"We incorporate handcrafted work in the simplest of products and rarely use off the shelf solutions unless they are deemed the most appropriate," Paul asserts.

Kind, courteous and polite staff who tidy up the site at the end of the day are always appreciated... Feedback is encouraged and a culture of improvement shapes the company philosophy.

And despite the challenging economic climate of recent years, Paul hasn't shied away from investment. The workshop has the latest equipment necessary for a 21st century forge but retains the traditional charm of an old blacksmith's space.

For quality work in metal with an artistic flair, contact Aire Valley Forge.
