Whether it is back to school or return to work after the holidays, September is a bitter sweet month. On the one hand, it can feel sad to leave behind the lazy carefree days of summer, but on the other hand, it is the time of year to start something new; enroll in a class, refresh your wardrobe, & make space for change.

No matter how you view it, we have you covered in this edition of the Aire Valley Mag. Get a jump start on the winter blues by losing weight; Slimming World has a number of classes in the area from which to choose. The Fashion Pop up Shop located at the Airedale Business Centre in Keighley makes it easy to update your autumnal look with all garments £8 or under.

Thursday the 20th is Late Night Opening at the Bronte Parsonage with free entry to residents from post codes BD20, 21 & 22. For more details read on...and have a fabulous September! Liz Cavendish Business Centre is located in the heart of Keighley in a newly renovated building that formerly housed the Probation Centre. The updated space provides serviced offices, conference & meeting rooms, hot desking facilities, and virtual office services. The modern and vibrant setting is available for flexible use, for as little as £15 for a 1/2 day. There is a fully equipped training room for hire including an interactive white board, ideal for classroom or theatre style configuration and competitively priced at £45 for a 1/2 day or £75 for a full day. For more formal meetings CBC offers a board room, comfortably accommodating up to 10 people around a solid wood table.

The suites are different sizes, many benefiting from natural light through exceptionally large windows. Weekly rent for a fully serviced office (309 sq ft), for example, is just £120, including Wifi, heating, lighting, & rates. Each office suite is secure with lift access from reception, its own kitchen & toilets per floor and access to a stylish communal area on the first floor. Whether you are an individual wanting to find a professional environment to work from with suitable flexibility, or an established business looking for smart new premises, Cavendish Business Centre has several options to consider. Additional support is also available in the way of payroll services, confidential waste facilities, and discounted parking for tenants.

All costs stated above are subject to VAT

Magic Dough

The slime craze has taken over our house. I keep finding little pots of the sticky stuff all over. While I'm generally up for any activity that gets my 3 off screens, I have diagnosed myself with 'slime fatigue'. This manifests itself as a pronounced sinking feeling whenever the 's' word is mentioned, and an overwhelming weariness as the mess stacks up. My bank account also has slime fatigue from financing the industrial amounts of glue, paint and shaving foam we get through.

So this recipe is for any parents, grandparents, aunties or uncles out there suffering similar symptoms. I've discovered that most of slime's appeal is in the making. Magic dough ticks all the boxes the kids need - measuring, mixing, kneading and moulding - but with the added bonus of having dinner sorted at the end of it!

We make it at least three times a week in our house for pizzas, naan bread, cinnamon rolls, garlic bread etc. With just 5 ingredients, it's so easy and cheap to make, always rises and is hoovered up by the kids. You might need to help them out with the measuring (and the cooking obviously), but other than that, you really can just leave them to it.

The recipe below makes 2 medium and 3 small pizzas. We're always changing our toppings. Our current favourite flavour combo (pictured) is vegan mozzarella, Toffuti cream cheese, caramelised onion, sundried tomatoes, loads of herbs and lemon zest.

INGREDIENTS

- 250g bread flour
- 250g plain flour
- 1 tsp fast acting yeast (1/4-ounce package yeast)
- 1 tsp table salt
- 325ml warm water

Mix flours, salt, yeast together. Add oil and water and mix together until it's a sticky ball, turn out onto a floured surface and knead for 10 mins. Place in a well-oiled bowl, coat the dough in oil and cover with a tea towel and leave somewhere warmish (sunny-ish window sill, airing cupboard etc). After 4 hours, it should have doubled in size (don't worry too much if it hasn't). Knock it back by kneading on a floured surface, divide and roll out. Then cook in a medium-high oven for between 3 and 8 mins, depending on the size of your pizzas.

This dough is also perfect for garlic bread (just brush with crushed garlic in oil immediately after cooking). Or cook it plain, cut into strips and dip in lemon zest infused extra virgin olive oil and balsamic vinegar.

As we continue our 50th Year of operation, there's plenty of ways to join in the celebrations. After the success of the special 8-day gala in June, we continue our period of seven days per week operation until the first week of September and then revert to weekends only for the Autumn. At the end of the summer running season our team of track maintenance volunteers will be out in force during their regular "Civils' Week". During the week, the Civil Maintenance gang will be working on several carefully orchestrated and meticulously planned projects, which often involve lifting and replacing sections of track just after the last train passes on then Sunday evening, and they will skilfully have everything back together in the nick of time for the first train to pass the following Saturday morning. It's an amazing operation and testimony to the commitment and dedication of our volunteers who will freely give up a week of their holiday for the benefit of the Railway as they take part in "Civils' Week".

There are many other examples of dozens of people volunteering both behind the scenes and front of house to keep the increasingly elderly wheels turning. We have teams working on the restoration of the carriages as well as the steam locomotives, and we are looking forward to welcoming back into traffic shortly the result of the second overhaul to be completed this year, complementing our already-impressive operational fleet. The engineering skills required to maintain the fleet are in danger of being lost from one generation to the next, so we are very excited to be welcoming our first engineering apprentices, in conjunction with the Yorkshire Dales Railway, York College and the Boiler Engineering Skills and Training Trust. Passing on these skills is vital to securing the future of the Railway so this is a particularly important achievement for us as we enter our second half-century of operation.

As well as all the work going on behind the scenes, we continue to run our full programme of events, with tickets having just gone on sale for the Beer & Music Festival as well as for the ever-popular Santa Special trains. Some of Santa's trains are already selling out, so please do book soon to avoid any disappointment and to give him and his Pixies plenty of time to wrap all the presents. As well as the special events, we continue to run every weekend and through the half-term holiday, so do please join us on board soon for a journey back in time and, as ever, you would be very welcome to apply to join our volunteering team. Full details of volunteering opportunities and of our programme of events are available on the website: www.kwvr.co.uk

SMITHY'S TECH TIPS

By Liam Smith

Voice assistants are everywhere these days, in our phones, our tablets, our computers, our smart speakers, our refrigerators, you name it. Gimmicky? Perhaps, but there's no denying that they've exploded in popularity. So what is a voice-assistant exactly, and what can it do for you?

A voice assistant is a digital assistant that uses voice recognition, natural language processing, and speech synthesis to provide aid to users through voice recognition applications. These voice assistants are built on artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning and voice recognition technology. Some assistants are built with more advanced cognitive computing technologies which will allow a digital assistant to understand and carry out multi-step requests with numerous interactions and perform more complex tasks, such as booking seats at a movie theatre, or scheduling a reminder for a day's time to do the shopping.

From Amazon's Alexa to Google's Home Assistant, there's a plethora of assistants that could be listed. However, they all serve one purpose, to serve you. From asking it to play your favourite songs and artists on Spotify, to getting real-time weather updates and the latest scores in football. There's really no limitation to these assistants as they perform actions based on voice commands, much like a physical button on a keyboard does that I'm typing on now. If a device like a light switch can be designed to interpret commands, the assistant can control it. Imagine having an assistant that can control the entirety of the home, just from your own voice, we're not quite there yet, but we're certainly not far off!

However, a common misconception that I've encountered since their boom in popularity has been between the hardware and the software. These virtual assistants require certain hardware to operate, and as such will come preinstalled on certified devices. The misconception arises when the assistant is confused with the device. For example, Sonos have an Amazon Alexa certified speaker that uses its own virtual assistant to perform certain commands with regards to music, the assistant isn't the speaker, it's built into it. Artificial intelligence such as voice assistants might seem gimmicky right now, but I wholeheartedly believe that they are the future of a smart home, and it's not hard to see why.

We have made a calendar in memory of Ellen Scott. We are Ellen's family and friends and when she died we wanted to continue her work. In her last blog post she said she wanted to help people with mental health problems. Ellen is no longer here to do this so we are doing it for her...

Ellen was an amazing young lady who could light up a room by just walking into it. She would often laugh about being a mermaid and in 2015 it was her job to do that at the lost carnival!

At the time Ellen was struggling and needing support with her mental health, suffered from anxiety and depression. In June 2017 Ellen took her own life.

We raised a lot of money for the mental health charity Mind through donations and were waiting for an idea to come along to help raise further funds.

Our calendar is a brief walk through the places important in Ellen's life and includes many of the people who love her.

The calendar is available to buy online from www.mermenformind.co.uk it is also available in Salts Mill bookshop, Saltaire, And in Haworth at: Cobbles and Clay, Hawksbys, 10 The Coffee House, Haworth Old Hall and Apothecary Tea Rooms.

COMEDY ILLUSION

#MYPINKBIN 2018 TOUR

Saturday 17th November 2018
 at Glusburn Community & Arts Centre

Mixing up comedy, impressive illusions and knock-about fun, this show bursts into life and makes for fabulous entertainment. The trickery is original, the banter between the two highly amusing and, come the end, you really will sense you had seen something quite unusual. Even if for large parts of the show you suspect the guys are busking it, there's no mistaking that these are serious magicians at play, and loving it!

A real treat for all the family!

Book your tickets today to avoid disappointment!
 Tickets: Adult £12 | Child £8 | Family (2 Adults 2 Children) £36

HOT IN SUMMER AND TOO COLD IN WINTER?

ultraRoof
improved by science

Transform your conservatory
into a cosy living space

Millions of homes across the UK enjoy the added luxury of a conservatory, whether it's for entertaining, extra living space or simply enjoying the views of the garden. But older conservatories can come with drawbacks - more often than not they are too cold in the winter and too warm in the summer, meaning they are underused. But now that's all changing. UltraRoof380 is helping transform conservatories into beautiful, elegant spaces, complete with vaulted ceilings and full-length glass panels to let the light flood in. The roof has been developed specifically for owners wanting to reinvent a conservatory and turn it into a room that feels more like an extension. While conservatories bring in plenty of natural daylight, the UltraRoof380 provides the best of both worlds, allowing

"It's given us back our favourite room of the house, now it's the room we've always wanted it to be."

you to design a room with a solid roof but also the ability to include glazed sections, giving you privacy yet still providing plenty of daylight. Developed using UltraTile, the lightweight tile system is as near to the real thing as you can get. Available in three realistic tile colours, the UltraRoof380 looks as good on the outside as the inside. There's also zero upheaval. Expert fitters from Ploughcroft will have your old roof removed and your UltraRoof380 installed in no time—all you need to do is sit back and watch your transformation.

So, if you want to revitalise your existing conservatory or add to your living space, call 01422 202 919 for more information or visit www.ploughcroft.co.uk

Brontë Parsonage Museum at 90

A History of the Museum in 10 Objects

This is cheating a bit, because it's not just one object: the Brontë Parsonage Museum holds almost a hundred jewellery items associated with the Brontë family. At first glance, it is a collection typical of women of their circumstances: as the daughters of a Victorian clergyman, it would not have been expected that the three young women would have worn expensive jewellery. There are many items of mourning jewellery made from the hair of lost loved ones, including Emily, a trend which was very popular during the 1840s and 1850s when Charlotte, with her new-found wealth, could have afforded to commission pieces made from the hair of her sisters.

However, there are also some very unusual pieces for a family of their circumstances. There is the beautiful necklace of carnelian beads which it is suggested is worn by Anne Brontë in Charlotte's 1834 portrait of her sister. There are a number of rings of different styles: set with pearls, rubies, diamonds and turquoise, stamped with emblems, a looped band giving the suggestion of infinity. There are brooches but also agate stones of a similar size, suggesting that these were intended to be fixed into a brooch setting as soon as an appropriate jeweller could be found. Alongside these beautiful items, there are also more eccentric pieces: a length of seashells and transparent glass beads, giving the appearance of a necklace but with no clasp or visible way of attaching the item around the neck. The questions that this collection prompt are: how did this family come to have these items? Who would have worn them and how? Where were they created? Although the Museum can be sure of the provenance of the majority of these collection items, some are very early acquisitions. The early curators do not appear to have dug deeply into provenance details (in one case, all we know about where the items came from is that they were given by 'an old lady from Hull' who was said to have nursed Charlotte Brontë prior to her death). However, the items themselves give clues as to lifestyles of the Brontë family and their relationships with jewellery and fashion, and as such, they are a highly important part of the collection.

Yorkshire Loft Ladders, Quality You Can Trust

These days most homeowners suffer from a lack of storage space. So many precious items that need to be kept - but where to store it all? That's where Yorkshire Loft Ladders come in. The company, based locally, offers homeowners the opportunity to maximise their storage space with a loft ladder, 50 sq ft of boarding and a light all fully fitted in less than a day from just £277 + VAT. But it's not just the affordability of the package the company offers that makes Yorkshire Loft Ladders stand out as manager Mark Hodson explains: 'Our watchwords are Quality, Integrity and Value. Quality in the materials that we use for all our installations and the fact that all our loft packages are fitted by time served tradesman so our customers are assured of the best job. Integrity in that we will turn up at the time we say and make sure the house is spotless when we leave, and Value in that we offer our services at a price people can afford. Our business relies on referrals and we get a huge amount of our calls from people who have been referred to us by our existing customers - that simply wouldn't happen if we didn't adhere to our overriding principles.

At the end of the day the old adage that happy customers lead to more happy customers is true and we work hard to make that happen for every installation we carry out!

So, if you want to make use of your loft space, however big or small, call Warren on 0800 612 8359 and he'll be happy to pop round and give you a no obligation quote so you too can make use of your loft.

Here's a great way to make more storage space...

Install a loft ladder and make more use of your loft!

Loft ladder, Light & Switch plus 50 sqft of flooring from as little as £277 +VAT which includes FREE fitting in less than a day.

Our customers choose us to fit their loft ladders, because we offer:

- A FREE home visit
- Fully guaranteed
- A FREE written quotation
- A large selection of ladders
